

Center Hill Ranch

Center Hill Ranch

Located 2 miles north of Bellville, this ranch has much to offer its Proud Owner. One enters this ranch through a striking gated entrance from Center Hill Road, a paved county road. The ranch road meanders through impressive live oak trees, across the limestone-lined dam, separating two nice ponds and continues to traverse the hill to the main ranch home, nestled in a mott of large native trees.

The historic main home, circa early 1900's, sits on the highest hill on the ranch and features 4 bedrooms and 1-1/2 baths, central heat and air, a parlor, fireplace, some lovely paver flooring, a front porch and pebble paver patio. Highlighting the home is the antique post office counter between the dining area and the family room, as well as wrought iron railing at the top of the stairwell, salvaged from the old Austin County Courthouse.

The guest home is located a short walk down the hill from the main ranch home and features a touch of the past, with a fragrance of the present, connected by a nice breezeway. One section, is an old home built in 1927 and has a full kitchen, 3 bedrooms and 1 bath, a living area, beautiful woods floors and some rooms with wide-plank walls. The second section, added in 2000, contains a large living area, master bedroom and bath. The second floor of this section is a bonus room and a game room accented with cedar planks, with a bar and half bath. A second half-bath is located in the oversized two-car garage.

The ranch property is sandy loam in nature with a lush cover of coastal and native grasses. Piney Creek, a year-round running creek, meanders through a portion of the ranch. There are four ponds on the property. A portion of the ranch is heavily wooded with oak, pine, and big native pecan trees, with selectively cleared walking and riding trails for one's pleasure meandering throughout.

All of the comforts afforded a ranch owner are here to be enjoyed minutes from Bellville's city limits or a relaxing 50 minute drive from Houston.

Information About Brokerage Services

Before working with a real estate broker, you should know that the duties of a broker depend on whom the broker represents. If you are a prospective seller or landlord (owner) or a prospective buyer or tenant (buyer), you should know that the broker who lists the property for sale or lease is the owner's agent. A broker who acts as a subagent represents the owner in cooperation with the listing broker. A broker who acts as a buyer's agent represents the buyer. A broker may act as an intermediary between the parties if the parties consent in writing. A broker can assist you in locating a property, preparing a contract or lease, or obtaining financing without representing you. A broker is obligated, by law to treat you honestly.

IF THE BROKER REPRESENTS THE OWNER:

The broker becomes the owner's agent by entering into an agreement with the owner, usually through a written - listing agreement, or by agreeing to act as a subagent by accepting an offer of subagency from the listing broker. A subagent may work in a different real estate office. A listing broker or subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first. The buyer should not tell the owner's agent anything the buyer would not want the owner to know because an owner's agent must disclose to the owner any material information known to the agent.

IF THE BROKER REPRESENTS THE BUYER:

The broker becomes the buyer's agent by entering into an agreement to represent the buyer, usually through a written buyer representation agreement. A buyer's agent can assist the owner but does not represent the owner and must place the interests of the buyer first. The owner should not tell a buyer's agent anything the owner would not want the buyer to know because a buyer's agent must disclose to the buyer any material information known to the agent.

IF THE BROKER ACTS AS AN INTERMEDIARY:

A broker may act as an intermediary between the parties if the broker complies with The Texas Real Estate License

Act. The broker must obtain the written consent of each party to the transaction to act as an intermediary. The written consent must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. The broker is required to treat each party honestly and fairly and to comply with The Texas Real Estate License Act. A broker who acts as an intermediary in a transaction:

- (1) shall treat all parties honestly;
- (2) may not disclose that the owner will accept a price less than the asking price unless authorized in writing to do so by the owner;
- (3) may not disclose that the buyer will pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer unless authorized in writing to do so by the buyer; and
- (4) may not disclose any confidential information or any information that a party specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose unless authorized in writing to disclose the information or required to do so by The Texas Real Estate License Act or a court order or if the information materially relates to the condition of the property.

With the parties' consent, a broker acting as an intermediary between the parties may appoint a person who is licensed under The Texas Real Estate License Act and associated with the broker to communicate with and carry out instructions of one party and another person who is licensed under that Act and associated with the broker to communicate with and carry out instructions of the other party.

If you choose to have a broker represent you, you should enter into a written agreement with the broker that clearly establishes the broker's obligations and your obligations. The agreement should state how and by whom the broker will be paid. You have the right to choose the type of representation, if any, you wish to receive. Your payment of a fee to a broker does not necessarily establish that the broker represents you. If you have any questions regarding the duties and responsibilities of the broker, you should resolve those questions before proceeding.
